Meena is a little girl who lives in a village with her parents, her grandmother, her brother Raju and her baby sister, Rani. Mithu, the parrot, is her best friend.

In many ways, Meena is like any other little girl you know. She is friendly but is not afraid to ask questions.

Share in Meena’s adventures as she laughs, climbs trees, asks questions and solves problems, and shows you all the things that a little girl can do.
One morning, Meena was reading a story to Grandma and her baby sister Rani. Her brother Raju, was helping Mother feed Lali, their cow.

Why are you giving Lali so much grass?

Lali is going to have a baby, Raju. She needs lots of good food so that she will give birth to a healthy calf.
Meena wanted to know what Mother ate before Raju, Rani and she were born.

Did you eat any special food, Mamma?

Yes, Grandma and your father looked after me very well, Meena.
When Mother was pregnant with Meena, Grandma and Father made sure that she got plenty of good food, orange and yellow fruits and fresh green leafy vegetables to eat. They also made sure to use iodised salt in the food.
They made Mother take plenty of rest and cared for her. If a pregnant woman eats healthy food and rests well she gives birth to a healthy baby. Babies who are born small have less chances of survival or to be healthy later in life.
Mother went for regular checkups at the health center.
Since it is very important to have a skilled person to help at the delivery, the health worker came to help with Meena’s birth.
Within minutes after Meena was born, she was given Mother’s first breast milk. The health worker said that Mother’s milk was all Meena needed to be healthy and safe from childhood diseases.
Meena was born so healthy because Mother ate good food and rested well when she was pregnant. Father held her proudly to his chest a few minutes after she was born.
Grandma brought out pictures to show the children how healthy they were and how well they had grown.

Was I a healthy baby too, Mamma?

You were all strong and healthy Raju. And we have always given you enough good food so that you grow well.
Mother showed them a picture of Meena when she was a little girl. She looked healthy and happy.
The next picture was taken after Raju’s birth.
Meena, Raju and Rani are all healthy children because Mother took care of herself when she was pregnant. They remain healthy because Mother makes sure that they continue to eat fruits, vegetables, leafy greens, dal and other healthy food!
